

BROOKFIELD: A COMMUNITY OF CHOICE FOR FAMILIES

A national reputation for excellence.

CNNMoney.com and Fortune Small Business Magazine have ranked Brookfield in the top 100 cities to live and launch a business.

One of the best public school systems available.

Elmbrook Schools boast upgraded schools, numerous awards, and standardized test and ACT scores well above state averages.

Exceptional private educational opportunities.

The Brookfield Academy graduates 100% of its students to four-year college and university programs.

A well-educated population.

About half of all adult residents hold at minimum a bachelor's degree and a growing array of adult educational opportunities exists nearby.

A supportive community in which to raise a family.

In 2005, nearly 80% of Brookfield's households, were considered "family" households.

Attainable housing choices for both young and established families.

Brookfield has plenty of houses on generously sized lots starting at $200,000.

A priority of public safety.

The City's crime rate is significantly lower than the State average.

A commitment to open space preservation.

Brookfield has 1,800 acres of parks and open space, including Mitchell Park and Wirth Park (and its aquatic center).

An extensive greenway trail network.

As of 2009, the City's greenway trails cover over 21 miles, with completion of the network anticipated soon.

An ideal location in the heart of southeastern Wisconsin.

Downtown Milwaukee is 20 minutes away and the Zoo, State Fair Park, and Miller Park are less than 15 minutes away.

A wide range of shopping, dining, and hotel options.

The recently renovated Brookfield Square Shopping Center is the only enclosed mall in Waukesha County.

Exceptional local services and cultural offerings.

The Brookfield Public Library, Wilson Center for the Arts, and Brookfield Farmers Market are a representative few.
